Thank you for this opportunity to offer remarks to support Waste Management's contract renewal. We are opposed to terminating the contract with Waste Management. I work for Jobs for Nevada's Graduates, a 501c3 organization that works closely with community partners like Waste Management to assist high school students in gaining the skills needed to reach graduation and pursue fulfilling careers. Waste Management has been a valuable partner to our organization, making much needed donations to our Northern Nevada programs. Their support is essential to closing funding gaps and providing supportive services. Donations from corporate partners enable JAG Nevada to keep caring adults in the classroom who will mentor students and offer life-skills training through personal and professional development. In addition to monetary support, Waste Management employees also provided volunteer hours to coach students in mock interviews. This is a valuable exercise that allows students to polish their professional skills in a learning environment as they prepare for career opportunities. We look forward to continuing our work with Waste Management and to further build on our relationship, JAG Nevada would like to bring Waste Management employees to our classrooms to discuss career opportunities and share information about the recycling programs. Waste

Management is a valued partner in Northern Nevada for JAG Nevada, and we would like to continue our partnership on behalf of the JAG Nevada students who benefit from their ongoing support. Thank you for your time and consideration, Amelia Anderson Calvert JAG Nevada Development Coordinator Reno, NV
