[illegible]

In support of items F1-F6 on the 1/22/25 Reno City Council meeting agenda

From Brian Bosma <bbosma.beep@gmail.com>

Date Tue 1/21/2025 2:19 PM

To Public Comment - CC <PublicComment@reno.gov>; City Clerk <CityClerk@reno.gov>; Naomi Duerr <DuerrN@reno.gov>

Good afternoon Councilmember Duerr and Reno City Clerk,

My name is Brian Bosma and I live in Ward 2. I am writing this letter in support of ordinances F1, F2, F3, F4, F5 & F6. These ordinances will help to clean up vague and inconsistent ordinance language and will help to create consistencies across numerous agencies and departments. Support of these ordinances gives those on the front lines the appropriate tools to enhance community health and public safety and improve overall conditions for visitors, students, residents and businesses.

With so many organizations and agencies working tirelessly toward Reno's vibrancy efforts these ordinances will help in addressing behaviors and conditions that threaten public safety, pollute our natural resources, and deteriorate the overall experience people have in our city.

Thank you for all your effort and work on behalf of Reno residents, businesses, students and visitors and thank you for your focus on making Reno a safe, clean and enjoyable place for everyone.

I hope you will vote in support of Agenda Items F1 through F6.

Respectfully,

M. Brian Bosma

For years now the reno city council and local government have been treating the unhoused population of our city like they are pests. They are people who have fallen on hard times, and need the support of the community around them, not to be pushed to the side so that they can be ignored and scorned by the government that should be helping them. Prohibiting "sitting, lying, sleeping, and camping on public places" will not solve any problems that the city council thinks it will. All it is us going to do is make the houseless population move to other areas, over congesting areas where they won't be penalized. There needs to be more systems in place that genuinely address the housing issues our city is facing, not shoving them to the side for the next generation to handle.

I'm opposed these items for many reasons... I've heard incredibly dehumanizing, sometimes dangerous, stories of the Cares Campus here and shelters like it elsewhere. Not to mention that the other shelters are full and folks with pets, disabilities, partners, children or women in general have even more difficult experience finding shelter/resources. It feels like these proposed items are an incredibly short-sighted bandaid solution to a much larger housing issue and have the potential to cause far more harm than good, and potentially even cost taxpayers more in the long run. Are we turning to other cities who are handling this in different, less harmful approaches and taking their data/results into consideration?

Even when shelters are available, they're often unsafe for women, pets, and people with disabilities. Shelters can reach capacity, then what? It's morally disgusting to criminalize neighbors who are simply surviving like the rest of us.

I am writing to oppose further anti-homeless legislation as proposed by the council. These proposed measures fail to address the root causes of homelessness, and instead, they criminalize poverty. They grant law enforcement the authority to penalize individuals simply for existing in public spaces, which does nothing to solve the underlying issues. Furthermore, I argue that the problematic individuals are already breaking existing laws and should be dealt with accordingly. We've seen in cities like Los Angeles and San Francisco that ordinances like these do not reduce homelessness. Instead, they displace vulnerable individuals, burden public resources, and lead to costly legal battles over their constitutionality. Moreover, these ordinances risk eroding the freedoms of ordinary, lawful residents, such as those who might sit or rest in public areas, while granting police the power to enforce these laws unevenly. Across the country, such vague measures have led to disproportionate impacts on marginalized groups, including people of color, individuals with disabilities, and those experiencing homelessness. I was walking through the Capitol park in Sacramento not long ago and the prevalence of homeless there was much the same as it is here. However in Sacramento, in addition to banning sleeping, camping and lying down, they also banned things like keeping your belongings in public, plugging in your devices in public, using the trash cans, smoking, and unattended wheelchairs. This is all pointless legislation. If this council feels that the camping ban by the Truckee was a success, then I will respond that the prevalence of homeless in my neighborhood greatly increased on a timeline that directly correlates to the camping ban and any camp sweeps. Records on the Reno direct portal will corroborate this claim. Instead of criminalizing those who have nowhere else to go, the city council should be seeking input from those who have experienced homelessness themselves. Effective solutions often come from individuals who have lived through this struggle and understand its nuances in ways that policymakers and city leaders cannot. It is not our place to judge what it is like to exist in a condition we know so little about. Rather than working against these individuals and the organizations that support them, the city council should be collaborating with them, enabling their efforts, and amplifying their voices. The CARES Campus is a good thing but it is not a one-size-fits-all solution and it should not be touted as the primary solution to homelessness in Reno. Cities that have successfully reduced homelessness, like Salt Lake City and Houston, have embraced housing-first strategies paired with supportive services, including mental health care, substance abuse treatment, and job training. These approaches work because they prioritize stability and respect for individuals' dignity. By contrast, measures like these ordinances perpetuate cycles of displacement and hardship without addressing the root causes of homelessness. These ordinances will neither resolve homelessness nor create a safer Reno. Instead, they risk limiting the freedom of lawful residents and granting police the discretion to enforce these laws discriminatorily. I urge you to invest in compassionate, evidence-based solutions and work collaboratively with those offering real help to ensure that we uplift our community as a whole. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sitting or lying down on public sidewalks..

Position:

If no, enter comments below:

To Whom It May Concern, I am writing to express my deep concern regarding the ongoing challenges faced by unhoused individuals in our community and the proposed ordinance to make sitting or lying down on public sidewalks illegal. This measure is both inhumane and cruel, as it neglects to address the systemic issues contributing to homelessness while unfairly penalizing those who are already vulnerable. With shelters at full capacity, many individuals are left without a safe place to stay, exposing them to extreme weather conditions that have, at many times, claimed lives. Even when space is available, shelters often fail to meet the diverse needs of our unhoused population. Women with children, individuals with disabilities, those struggling with severe mental health issues or addiction, and people with companion animals frequently face barriers to accessing these facilities, etc. These gaps in inclusivity and safety keep the cycle of homelessness going, making life even harder for the most vulnerable people in our community. Addressing these issues is key to creating a more supportive and fair environment for everyone. The current approach of using sweeps and incarceration doesn't solve the root causes of homelessness or offer lasting solutions. Punishing behaviors like sitting or sleeping in public spaces only pushes people further to the margins of society. Instead of helping them find stability and support, these actions create more barriers, making it even harder for them to escape homelessness. For example, 70% of people experiencing homelessness report that legal barriers and criminal records make finding housing or employment significantly harder, exacerbating their challenges. A better solution would focus on addressing the underlying issues, like lack of affordable housing, mental health support, and job opportunities, to break the cycle of hardship and offer real paths to recovery. I urge the council to address this issue with compassion and to prioritize investment in public services that offer meaningful, long-term support. Expanding access to affordable housing, mental health care, and inclusive shelters is essential for effectively tackling this crisis. Evidence shows that housing-first programs can reduce chronic homelessness by up to 87%, while also generating significant cost savings through reduced reliance on emergency services and incarceration. By funding outreach programs and supportive housing initiatives, we can improve outcomes for unhoused individuals and build a more equitable and humane community. Thank you for your consideration of this urgent matter. Sincerely, Lee Anne Moore

Agenda item F.1, and all of the proposed ordinances on homelessness for that matter, are misguided and flawed efforts that do not adequately address homelessness in our community. Instead of seeking to either alleviate the pains of homelessness - via better shelters, programs, and aid - or tackle homelessness at its source - via equitable and reasonable housing and economic policy - the proposed measures instead aim to make homelessness less visible with no regard to how this will impact our homeless neighbors. Specifically, the proposed policies as written will continually target and punish individuals who lack or cannot access the resources or knowledge to navigate their situation and do not provide an adequate way for such individuals to improve their situation. The Staff Report for this item, Bill No. 7284, vaguely mentions "encourag[ing encampment] inhabitants to accept other alternatives like shelters, drug treatment programs, and mental health facilities", yet anyone who works with the homeless can share how ineffective these "alternatives" can be, especially in our community, as these are often limited in space, woefully underfunded, or require people to relinquish their own freedom, possessions, and dignity. City of Grants Pass v. Johnson is given as a legal justification for these ordinances, yet we cannot delude ourselves into thinking that just because something is legal, that it is appropriate or effective, yet alone ethical. Instead of focusing on the visible perception of homelessness, I implore the City to instead consider solutions that address the fundamental causes of homelessness - as laid out earlier in this comment - so that we can meaningfully and effectively address this issue. I understand this may be difficult and nebulous, but we as a City and community must seek to address issues to solve them, not to simply cover them up.

January 22 Council Meeting Opposition to Agenda Item F1-6

From Natalie Handler <nataliemhandler@gmail.com>

Date Tue 1/21/2025 2:20 PM

To Jackie Bryant <BryantJ@reno.gov>; Public Comment - CC <PublicComment@reno.gov>

Greetings City of Reno Manager, Mayor + Council

I am writing to you in extreme opposition to the ordinances agenda items F1-3 which punish our most vulnerable and impoverished residents from doing life sustaining activities such as sitting, lying, sleeping in public. What this ordinance essentially does is punish people for being poor. Not only is it morally unconscionable it is also extremely wasteful and data shows that it only further pushes people away from exiting homelessness.

I have heard the term "service resistant" being tossed around as a way to further encourage the need to push this harmful ordinance forward and it makes me increasingly angry every time. Anyone who really checks out the services offered or attempts to access them are met with lack of accessible shelter beds as shelters are often at capacity or lack space for some demographics (most often women children disabled/elderly) never ending waitlists, unsafe or dignified options and many other barriers that would take anyone with reliable electricity, internet, transportation and level-headedness days to access let alone our unhoused neighbors who often have none of those things and are doing everything to stay warm, fed and safe on a daily basis. I know this from first hand experience as do many other community advocates and we have told you via public comment, email and face-to-face time and time again. You can send cops, ambassadors, park rangers and private security guards around with flyers listing off the address of Cares campus or Our Place but that will not magically make more shelter beds open up for the hundreds who are on the streets or in our parks. Nor will it create viable housing options for them that currently do not exist. I will also say that when there are even around 15 beds open at Cares no one should be forced to go there. It is widely known as unsafe, inhospitable and inhumane with 600+ head to toe and offers little to no exit strategies into housing. At one point and time we asked you all to stay a night to see what its like and none of you did. So how can you sit here and vote to give people no other option than a massive tent or a jail cell? And yes when someone with no money can't pay the fine first then the fine turns to a warrant they will go to jail. This is not anywhere near the Housing First model some of you have claimed you support. Your actions will speak louder than your words

As for the few business owners who have taken advantage of the low property values along the 4th street corridor claiming this as their neighborhood even though they do not reside in this part of town seem to champion this ordinance. I hear them speak of their concerns about vandalism, violence, drug and alcohol use (not that which is happening inside their business of course, just that of the poor people outside) and I would like to remind them the council and our community that we already have laws that prohibit those activities. None of that behavior should be used to prop up this ordinance against sitting or resting.

This ordinance is not nor will it ever be a solution to helping people gain housing and safety. It is wasteful and harmful. Please take the opportunity to show strong intelligent and compassionate leadership by voting no! If you cannot tell me where folks are supposed to go when the shelters are full or how this punitive action actually helps people get into housing then maybe it shouldn't be implemented. If you can tell me these things with reason I would absolutely love to hear back from you on this!

Sincerely,
Natalie Handler

RE: Support for ordinances F1-F6 on the January 22, 2025 Reno City Council Meeting

Dear Mayor and Council Members:

The Downtown Reno Partnership is a 501(c)(6) nonprofit business improvement district that was formed in 2018 and is tasked with increasing the safety, cleanliness and vibrancy of Downtown Reno. Our boundaries cover 110 blocks, and we represent over 1,500 property owners.

We are writing in support of ordinances F1, F2, F3, F4, F5 & F6. These ordinances will help to clean up vague and inconsistent ordinance language and will help to create consistencies across numerous agencies and departments. Support of these ordinances gives those on the front lines the appropriate tools to enhance community health and public safety and improve overall conditions for visitors, students, residents and businesses.

Downtown Reno welcomes more than 3 million visitors per year to our iconic Virginia Street, to stroll along our beautiful Truckee River, to enjoy the Riverwalk District, the Brewery District, and the J Resort Glow Plaza. Downtown Reno is a special place for residents, visitors, students and business owners to come and enjoy all that The Biggest Little City has to offer.

Numerous organizations and agencies are working tirelessly toward Downtown Reno's revitalization efforts and these ordinances will help in addressing behaviors and conditions that threaten public safety, pollute our natural resources, and deteriorate the overall experience people have in our city.

Thank you for all your effort and work on behalf of Reno residents, businesses, students and visitors. And thank you for your focus on making Reno a safe, clean and enjoyable place for everyone. We hope you will vote in support of Agenda Items F1 through F6.

Sincerely,

Neoma Jardon

Hello City Council,
I am against this proposed law!!

F. 1 through F. 6 – Adoption of an ordinance prohibiting sitting, lying, sleeping, or camping in public places and another related to loitering.

Do not vote in support of this. I think it is toxic and you are over reaching and not helping homeless families and homeless enough. You let California toxic developers and investors come here and create a monopoly with no laws to protect renters and jack up rents and people were evicted and once you are homeless its very hard to get back into housing.

Families are suffering and so are seniors. Unemployment is the highest in nation in Nevada and housing is the most expensive.

Do not vote Yes on this law. Anyone should be able to rest or lie down if needed. This is not Nazi Germany.

R. Haverly
