To whom it may concern,

As an owner at Louis' Basque Corner and The Depot Craft Brewery & Distillery, I would like to provide my support for the continued suspension of the liquor licenses at Wrightway Market and Lakemill Maxxi Mart. I have a direct line of sight and day to day dealings with the Wrightway Market. Since their license suspension, there has been a noticeable decrease in the presence of public drunkenness and other criminal activities occurring within the area. All of us that hold privileged licenses should act according to the law and codes that govern our businesses. Everyone needs to play by the same rules and when these businesses openly violate them, they should be punished accordingly.

As the chair of the Downtown Reno Partnership board of directors, I can tell you that the calls for service to these locations have been virtually reduced to zero since their license suspensions. That is down from an average of 40-50 calls per month that these locations were previously experiencing. The proof is right there before our eyes that bad actors need to be held accountable for their actions. There are plenty of other markets that sell alcohol that don't have anywhere near the volume of service calls as the locations in question. I would ask that you reaffirm the decision to suspend their licenses until they can provide a clear plan on how they can prevent these issues in the future. Until then, we can continue to use the service call data to establish a baseline for the properties and can measure against it in the future if they do get their licenses back.

Thank you for your time.

Regards,

I am a Reno citizen writing in favor of the denial of the licensee's privileged business license renewal and a permanent revocation of liquor licenses for the Lakemill Maxi Mart and Wrightway Market (and/or its licensee). These locations have long been a petri dish for crime and code violations. Holding a liquor license is a privilege and a responsibility, the licensee has shown consistently that they are not up to the task.

Why let stores that cause problems be able to sell alcohol. I have heard about this store before and know it has a reputation of bad business and has caused a lot of problems with people in the community. RPD seems to always be there. Alcohol license is a privileged license which was stated in a council meeting last year it is not required to have. If they want to be a convenience store they are still allowed to be, but get rid of the alcohol which will limit the problems within the store. There does not need to be a liquor store on every corner in downtown.

Hello Reno City Council,

My name is Eric Lerude. I am a resident of downtown Reno.

I am contacting you to let you know of my support of the proposed permanent revocation of the liquor licenses of the Lakemill Maxi Mart and the WrightwayMarket.

There is a long history of trouble occurring at these two locations due in large part to the liquor licenses issued to these two businesses. Your staff recommends that these licenses being permanently revoked. RPD recommends the same result.

This is one more important step toward marking downtown Reno a safer and cleaner place for the good of residents and visitors.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Hello,

I am writing today in support of the permanent revocation of the Lakemill Maxi Mart and Wrightway Market liquor licenses marked as agenda items D3 & D4.

Basin Street Properties is the largest office landlord in Downtown, with properties near these two establishments. I work in our leasing department, largely working to bring and retain businesses to Reno's downtown core.

Our tenants are adversely impacted by the crime and safety issues generated by these markets on a daily basis.

As a landlord investing in and operating professional office space in Downtown, it has become increasingly difficult to retain and attract new businesses to Downtown due to the crime and safety concerns- for which these 2 markets contribute to.

This is evidenced by the high number of calls RPD responds to specific to these locations.

We believe the revocation of these liquor licenses would be a significant step in reducing crime in Downtown and freeing up the valuable resources of our Police Department.

Thank you,

Jacob Chaparian

Look at the difference between the two stores. Fireside is way better. They treat their customers with respect and do not let the bad apples come in. Prices are roughly the same so why keep a store that causes more problems. I have seen management let the problems keep occurring. Honestly, I believe most people would choose fireside over Wright due to the simple fact they know how to be friendly with customer and handle the bad ones correctly.

If it is a privileged license then pull it. More businesses need to be shown that bad behavior will not be tolerated by this city. There are enough problems in Reno without having bad managed businesses causing more. If the city does not show other business now then more business will get away with more problems. There are already a lot of health violations that occur throughout these stores yet they get away with it by putting a bandage over it. Stores like this should be forgiven for years of mistake.

Good morning, City Council Members and Madam Mayor, my name is Jonathan Boulware, and I am a concerned citizen living in Reno, Nevada. I also work in Downtown Reno as the Vice-President of Nevada Operations for Jacobs Entertainment. I am writing to you today to support the permanent revocation of the liquor licenses of the Lakemill Maxi Mart and the Wrightway Market marked as agenda item D3 & D4. When they were allowed to operate with their liquor license, the numerous calls for service to the Reno Police Department (RPD) were very concerning and extremely dangerous for our community. There has been a dramatic reduction of calls for RPD service since the suspension of their liquor license.

It is vitally important that we keep Reno moving forward in a direction that promotes a safe place for our community to live and enjoy - certainly, free from the dangerous criminal activity that occurred at these locations. When we have businesses that do not do everything in their power to support this safe vision, they must be held accountable; I strongly urge you to permanently revoke the liquor licenses of the Lakemill Maxi Mart and the Wrightway Market.

Thank you,

Jonathan Boulware

Good afternoon, my name is Par Tolles and I am a business and property owner in downtown Reno, Nevada and one of the founding members of the Downtown Reno Partnership. I am calling today to support the permanent revocation of the liquor licenses of the Lakemill Maxi Mart and the WrightwayMarket marked as agenda item D3 & D4. Many of us in the private side have spent years attempting to affect change in downtown Reno. These businesses are two of the main barriers that continue to enable illegal behavior that holds our efforts back. Reno is finally moving in the right direction and your vote of revocation can continue to keep us moving in the right direction.

Your Comment

I have lived in the downtown area for 10 plus years and have worked as a bus driver for 5 years. Wright Way Market is just a big mess. There are so many health violations, expired food, dirty work area, and terrible management. I have seen the owners of the store harass customers, over charge locals like myself, and there seems to always be problems and fights outside. As a bus driver I know how hard it is to be working with some of the customers that come downtown but some of their business practices are just horrendous. They shouldn't be allowed to get their alcohol license back because they do not know how to run a business. You can blame it on the environment, however if you cross the street the other way you can go to the fireside who deal with the same type of people yet they are able to treat people with respect and run a organized, proper business without having all the same problems.
