I spoke to Jeri over the phone and answered her specific questions. She also said she would like to submit this as a public comment to have the included attachment distributed to council.

Good morning. I have a question about the council meeting this Wednesday, March 8th. I am being considered to sit on the City's Historical Resource Commission (Agenda Item G2). I'm wondering if potential candidates are intended to be in attendance at the meeting to answer any potential questions from the council. Is that the case? If so, should we plan to arrive at the start of the meeting at 10 a.m., or is there a time before which that agenda item would not be considered. Additionally, I am wondering if there is any way to file a correction/addendum to my application. In mentioning numerous people I have interviewed over my years as journalist, I noted Deborah Hinman, who sits on the board. However, I stupidly made an error and spelled her first name incorrectly as Debra. Lastly, I've attached a letter of recommendation to this email and was curious if that can/should be added. Thank you so much for your time and help. I can be reached here or on my cell at 775-636-3208. Regards!

To Reno City Council:

Please find this letter in support of Jeri Chadwell for appointment to the City of Reno Historical Resources Commission. She has the passion, education and knowledge that make her an ideal choice to serve the community on this board.

I've gotten to know Jeri as a media colleague and friend over the past several years and am always impressed with her depth of knowledge about the city's history and current issues. She is smart, collegial, and unafraid to speak her mind. Most importantly, she's a good person who would do an excellent job.

Sincerely,

Guy Clifton
