Your Comment (if you are speaking, it is not necessary to complete this field)	City and County government should NEVER retroactively change land zoning restrictions. Zoning restrictions are contracts with the many people who purchased and developed their property in good faith. To change zoning requirements after-the-fact is a dishonest and corrupt violation of existing agreements with law-abiding, tax-paying, property-owning citizens. Set zoning restrictions as you like for empty, undeveloped properties, and use some wisdom, so you won't try to change your mind later, after citizens have invested millions of dollars and decades of hard work developing their property in accordance with existing rules and regulations, including existing zoning restrictions.
Which City of Reno Ward do you reside?	Unincorporated Washoe County
